

File 20110802.1150 (CDT): At lunch, I spoke with Larry Brown and we compared notes on this morning's general sessions. Larry asked what I thought was the most interesting thing said. I said I thought Frank Sinkular's story about DoD trying to 'sensor' ('censor'?) all the UCDMO's CDSes in response to Wikileaks. UCDMO shut DoD right down, saying, 'Oh no you don't.'

I also thought the DoD CIO's remark about how President Obama made it okay to use Twitter and social media. Now CDSes have to handle those too, where before they ignored or blocked it.
