

File 20111222.1653: Notes for WAR: reading NIST SP 800-117; no one else has figured it out yet. UCDMO conference presentation. Leveraging SCAP to report presence and correct operation of all 800-53 security controls required by the profile. An important situation is where system administrators turn on security controls long enough to pass the T&E, then turn them off for operational efficiency as soon as the accreditors leave, without reporting the change.

Make it a very brief and sober tone of report this time. I am working hard to the new schedule and no time for chit-chat.

References