

File 20100619.0853: A moral hazard is when a person insulated from the consequences of a risk behaves differently than if he were not insulated from the consequences of the risk.

References