

File 20110116.1505: Idea for a follow-on activity after Probabilistic Rdaction runs its course: suggest an internal study of security problems related to programming practices in TIS and then present a series of safety/security meetings at which developers will be taught to avoid making or overlooking those problems in code.

References