

File 20111108.0646: Notes from meeting with Dr Martin:

I met with Dr Martin briefly after Security Reading Group, reporting that I have arranged things with my employer for a deal in January. The exact manner of leaving is still indeterminate and arrangements will take some time to conclude, but it put Lockheed on notice that the amount of time they have been demanding is greatly excessive and I am quitting them to focus on my dissertation. I am removing roadblocks to finishing.

The remaining part of this week I have commitments to other people that I have to honour; I have to read another nine patents and published patent applications for the IPRB meeting on Thursday, then file some paperwork for publication of the Air Force research project's final technical report.

Dr Martin asked that I meet with Dr Fléchais and I promised to do that as soon as I have enough information to plan a new schedule.

Next meeting scheduled for Thursday, 17th November at 0800.
