

File 20111222.1300: Phone call from Kevin Miller. He tried to talk me out of leaving again, but I declined. I have to finish my dissertation.

Kevin needs an official white paper with recommendations on what to do for SCAP compliance. Make it a chapter of my dissertation. Monday, 2nd January will be my notice date. After that it's two weeks and I'm gone. There is plenty of time to write a good white paper in there. Kevin asked me to stay to work on the source code management software, but I just can't. He sounded very dissatisfied.

Look in the UCDMO Conference slides for a presentation by a lady that Kevin attended. It is where he heard the mandate for SCAP compliance. It is not written down anywhere else yet. I promised to track it down. Contact the lady and ask her.
