

File 20101018.1922: I reviewed a very interesting document tonight for the Army. It was a description of how Lockheed Martin proposes to help the command with all their C&A needs. When my printer is back up and running I will print it out and archive it.

References