File 20111115.1051: Phone call from Kevin Miller. He is in Baltimore for RM 5.1 discussions, having visited UCDMO today, meeting with DIA tomorrow, and attending CDTAB on Thursday, then returning Friday. He asked me for plans for the next 3–4 weeks. I reported that I have worked 927.8 hours so far this year; I need 1000 hours to keep benefits, so need at minimum about 10.5 hours per week over the next seven weeks. I asked for 10–16 hours on NFS failover next week, finish the AFRL stuff this week, and then to research Source Code Management Tools the following week.
